Friendships that were created at Sanger High School this past year will remain with us forever. As we reflect upon this past year, we'll remember that our friends made life on campus fun and enjoyable. Our school was united. The members of the four classes were competitive but yet a closeness did exist. In the various classes we were provided the opportunity to develop new friends and to renew and keep our old friendships alive. Outside of class we experienced a closeness with each other that reflected a spirit of FRIENDSHIP unequalled by other schools.

Football friends John Condley, Javier Garza, Rob Ballew, John Aiello and Steve Wade at an Apache rally.

"We're No. 1" claims Nora Rodriguez, Alicia Sifuentes, Esmerelda Cantu and Vicky Martinez.

Frosh friends Ned Barton, Kathy Gannon, Curtis Tange, Laura Franco and Matt Discorti.

Students of Sanger High expressed themselves in a unique way. The variety of activities available for each of us made Sanger High School an educational institution that was able to develop each of us in such a way that after graduation we would succeed. Sanger High stands above the rest. We accomplished what needed to be done and we displayed our pride as we accomplished in our curricular and co-curricular activities. We expressed ourselves in many ways. Our individuality came through as we participated.

Bengie Cardona was victorious at the Bullard Rally and ASB Prexy David Phillips acknowledges the win.

Kevin McHatten, Randy Maslowski and Ben Asundon showing off 'Porter's Potty Pass'.

Frosh Liso Garcia getting books for class.

Senior Troy Shepard not getting books for class.

Mike Powers and Leslie Sanders 'playing' at a rally.

Paul Pabocjian and his gift from his 'Guardian Angel'.

Patrick Glaspy and his 'finger biting' friend.

David Sanchez 'doung his thing' in band.

Nancy Flores and Teresa Rodriguez just 'taking it easy'.

Cooch Kay Nishimura gives the word to Henry Elisarrarez.

Education at

Sanger High this year wasn't limited to classroom lectures and books. From 8:20 am until 2:46 the SHS faculty taught us the basic fundamentals and the 'all-important' lessons of life. We listened carefully and tried earnestly to absorb their wise words. Our academic standards were set and we accomplished what we set out to do. We took pride in our achievements and had no problem attaining a basic understanding of what was taught. We learned because we cared. We cared because our teachers cared. The result was a successful 1982-83 academic year.

Seniors

SENIORS . . . 1983. A group of individuals who never lost their individuality and yet came together as friends to form a cohesive unit that, throughout the year, expressed pride in who they were and what they accomplished. Academically and socially they excelled. From the very beginning of their Sanger High years, the class members focused on a direction that would enable them to make correct decisions when called upon to do so. Sanger High taught and they learned. SHS provided them with the tools to face the future. The class's achievements are well documented and are evidence that hard work and interest pay off.

Seniors . . . We are Seniors! That's what was heard all over campus from the first day of classes this year. After finally reaching the end of their four years at high school, the class members remember coming in as confused freshman looking up but never looked up to. Then, moving along as Sophs, the members of the class established themselves as integral parts of our student body. As Juniors they were old enough to be looked up to, yet young enough to get out of most responsibilities. Now senior status Senior Memories, color in ECHO, AP and Institutions and Respect!

Seniors

The members of the Class of 1983 approach graduation with mixed feelings of excitement and regret as their four years at SHS come to an end. Graduation marks both a beginning and a conclusion. The beginning of a new part of their lives and a conclusion to a very important aspect of living ... the high school years. Decisions on college majors, careers, jobs and marriage are all a part of the future and Sanger High has prepared them to accept their responsibilities. Sanger High was filled with the good times and most Seniors will never forget SHS and this portion of their lives.

Seniors

Seniors traditionally are the leaders of any student body and this year's class members 'led all the way'. They were the 'biggest and best' members of the ASB and created a spirit of cooperation and pride among the entire student body. The positive attitude that they displayed throughout the four years reflects upon the caring attitude of the class members.

Graduation concludes four years of intensive study and play that were combined in such a way that they 'learned' and developed in such a way that fearing the future is not a problem.

SENIORS . . . Carch Seniorities during the early part of their last year here on campus. The symptoms are many and varied including going on donut runs, making silly excuses for missing or postponing tests, going on snow trips and visiting the lake. Events scheduled for May and June were discussed and planned in October. During the spring months academic endeavors were practically non-existent and the word homework lost its meaning completely. However, most Seniors survived this psychological state and face graduation with one long sigh of relief.

SENIOR TEN COMMANDMENTS . . .

- I A SENIOR is never wrong
- II SENIORS are superior in every way. Treat them as such.
- III The only reason the SENIORS keep the rest of the student body around is to make the SENIOR CLASS look even better.
- IV. The relationship of the SENIOR CLASS to the rest of the student body is that of master and slave.
- V Underclassmen should never speak to a SENIOR until spoken to.

SENIOR TEN COMMANDMENTS .

- VI. On campus always remember . . . SENIORS always have the right-of-way
- VII. A SENIOR is never late for class; class begins when all the SENIORS have arrived
- VIII. Never mention to a SENIOR that he/she was ever a freshman.
- IX. Obey the SENIORS . . . Their word is law
- X. The CLASS OF 1983 will be the last SENIOR CLASS at Sanger High; in the future all juniors shall be exterminated on the last day of school.

The members of the Class of '83 have set a standard for other classes to follow. Academically, athletically and socially the individual members of the class excelled and brought pride and recognition to the Sanger High campus. Dedication to a cause was evident this year and the cause was doing the best job possible. SAT scores were very high as were the collective grade point averages of the seniors. Little has to be written about the accomplishments of the class because the deeds speak for themselves. In the classroom, on the fields, or wherever they congregated . . . the Seniors stood above the rest.

This year's class officers contributed a great deal to the effectiveness of the class. Steve Code, Stacey Larsen, Kerri Bebee, Teresa Villalobos and Ben Gong contributed a great deal of their time and talent to make this class one of the best ever. In developing a positive attitude among the 435 members of the class, much out-of-the-ordinary was accomplished. The officers set the tone for the year and it was a positive one. Many of the class members followed the example set by the officers and had a fun time in the co-curricular activities of SHS.

Spirit saturated the members of the Senior class this year as the energetic members of the class participated in virtually every one of the rallies and 'special day' events. Their enthusiasm caught on and the entire student body made this year a memorable one as far as Sanger High spirit was concerned. The Seniors had pride in themselves and their school and this caused them to strive to be THE outstanding SHS graduating class. The Class of '83 made its mark on Sanger High and there presence will be felt for a long time to come

MORE MATURE Remember the first day of SHS when we were freshmen and scared of just about everything? We all thought that we never would find our classes and the teachers were something to be feared. We couldn't even find the bathroom! Remember that we had to walk to lunch, we got booed during the rallies and we wanted to hide from every other member of the student body. That all changed this year. We're only one step away from being seniors, but we played the part of 'big shots' all year long.

ALMOST THERE. We're about there. Three of our four years here at Sanger High have quietly slipped away. For most of us they have been great but we also remember the 'less than fun' times (remember the time you were sent to the vice principal's office?). We're still underclassmen but in a few days that will all be over. We'll be Seniors! We're waiting for the Senior Privileges even though most of us took advantage of the rules and regulations and got away with some of them this year, including the early departure for lunch.

Sophomores

One of the many fond memories of being a Sophomore of the 'Class of 1985' was getting the opportunity to have Mrs. Kurz or Mrs. Fritz (your friend and mine) for a world literature teacher. Mr. Barrett was also a teacher who established fond memories in the minds of the Sophs in his world history class where he was referred to as 'El Supremo'. Biology proved to be a learning experience for all Sophomores who took the class from Mr. Whittington or Mr. Loemmlen. As for the geometry teachers, Mr. Buchanan and Mr. Dietz 'proved' that learning at Sanger High is not just a postulate but a theorem.

Sophomores

Although the Sophs have many memories to cherish from their first two years of high school they have much to look forward to. Memories include the football games, rallies, various dress-up days and dances. The Sophs look forward to the Junior-Senior prom (and the financial projects that go along with it), getting their first car, driving to school and being called upper classmen. The Sophomore year was a great year for great memories and anxious expectations.

Sophomores

The members of the Class of '85 had a tremendous amount of school spirit this year and their attitude affected the entire student body. For Sophs, the Braves took most of their attention. The classes' pride was reflected in outstanding win-loss records. "We're No. 1" said it all as far as the Sophs were concerned.

Sophomores

An important part of being a student at Sanger High is getting involved in one or more of the many activities available. The Sophs took advantage of many opportunities to get involved in such things as sports, clubs or student government. Many Sophs spent a great deal of their out-of-class time making Sanger High a great place to be. This involvement developed strong friendships among the members of the class. Spirit 'makes' the class and because of their spirit the Class of '85 was exceptionally outstanding. The involvement of the class members showed their interest and pride in their school.

"I can't figure out the sophomores
Though often I have tried
For exactly what the sophomores are
No one can decide
They've been around the high school,
So we all know their face
Yet sometimes these young sophomores,
Don't really know their place,
I don't really know the answer, and I wish I could be told
If the sophomore is a junior, young, or a freshman, old

Freshmen

The Class of 1986 made its mark on Sanger High. Of course, during the early part of the year, they wandered aimlessly around campus pretending to be high school students, but gradually they found out what it was all about and began contributing to their school. They did participate in all of the right things and they soon became an integral part of the student body. "Let's not make mistakes was their motto" and they made few. Those that were made were soon forgotten and as the year progressed they managed to act just like their 'older' counterparts. No school is complete without freshmen and Sanger High was just a little bit better because of the Class of 1986

Freshman

Can anyone handle being a freshman? It's one of the roughest times of life. The enjoyment (?) of being a frosh included the insults or the rallies, being trashed and being sent in the 'wrong direction' when one asked directions. It's a proven fact that members of the frosh class cannot 'get their acts together' until they learn the art of survival. All the upperclassmen and even some of the faculty members took delight in tormenting the 'youngsters' of the student body. But as is always the case, the frosh started at the bottom but quickly mastered Sanger High. They're just about Sophs and are eagerly awaiting 'little freshmen' in the fall.

Freshmen

Believe it or not . . . Freshmen are human beings. What would a school do without them. They certainly entertain us as they are always being called upon to make fools of themselves before the upperclassmen and faculty. Their antics, although juvenile, turned the gloomy days into days of sunshine and brightness. The upperclassmen could 'yell' at them without fear of reprisal. But the frosh did exist and are just waiting for their opportunity (in a few days) to attain the title of sophomores and claim the power that goes with not being the 'babies' of the student body.

Christina Lopez Crowned 1982 Homecoming Queen

Christina Lopez highlighted this year's international Homecoming as she was crowned Sanger High's 1982 Homecoming Queen. After a long week of anxiously awaiting the counting of the ballots and then the interminable wait as the runners-up were announced, Christine's name came out last as the crown was hers. The 1982 Sanger High Homecoming court was made up of Heidi Snell, Sheri Farmer, Debbie Gahvejian and Juanita Escobedo. These lovely Sanger High coeds succeeded in making this year's event something to remember always. In addition to the halftime ceremonies featuring the crowning, many Sanger High students participated in the Homecoming float competition and parade of floats that preceded the crowning. ASB member Christine Torosian was in charge of the affair and her competency showed throughout the event. Everything went off perfectly. In addition to the game, which we won; the parade and the floats; and the crowning of the queen; the evening climaxed with the traditional Homecoming Dance.

Dress-up Day

The students of Sanger High did indeed get involved this year in Homecoming Week. Even though the weatherman didn't cooperate as well as he could have, the students' enthusiasm wasn't dampened and the entire week was a 'hit.' The Student Council was responsible for the event that attracted the attention of many Sanger High students who dressed up and had fun reverting 'back' to times past. During the week, it appeared that the students who didn't dress up were the students who were a little out of place. Because of the success of Homecoming Week, many students couldn't wait for 'Spring Week' when they, once again, could 'dress up.' Homecoming Week was another example of the spirit that prevailed throughout the campus throughout the year.

The Christmas season proved to be a happy occasion for many of Sanger High's students. Though it was a cold morning, the Toyland Parade again was successful and featured, unfortunately, too few SHS entries. However, the championship football and volleyball teams, the SHS Band and NROTC units and students on various floats did participate this year. Many couples anxiously awaited the night of the Christmas formal. When it finally arrived it seemed to be over in a matter of minutes. It was an extra special night for King and Queen Rick Duran and Stacey Larsen, Prince and Princess David Matsumura and Kristine Sandberg, Prince and Princess Sal Orozco and Liz Rodriguez, and Prince and Princess Matthew Matsumura and Vicki Kalar.

Apache Rallies Show Fun and Sanger High Spirit

Mascot Jennifer Lewis gloats as she destroyed the mean ol Pirate

'We re No 1' shouted the Apaches at a rally

Traditionally some students do not attend the Apache rallies. If they missed them this year, they missed an opportunity to have a little fun and to become involved in Sanger High spirit. The rallies were fun. The rallies generated spirit. The rallies reflected the spirit that prevailed throughout the campus this year. This year's rallies showed a marked increase in the number of students who participated in the various skits and routines that were designed to raise the spirit and pride of the Apache student body. Rally Commissioner Alma Castenada worked hard throughout the year to create an atmosphere of fun at the rallies. The pep girls and the cheerleaders, along with the flag and letter girls and the Apache pep band all blended together as a single spirited group. The rallies reflected the student body's interest in Apache athletics.

There was something for everyone at the Apache rallies this year as Rally Commissioner Alma Castenada attempted to get as many students as possible involved. We had the traditional aspects: the yelling by the cheerleaders, the dancing by the pep girls, the flag waving by the flag girls, the tossing of batons by the majorettes and the fantastic routines of the flag girls. The band was there, the students were there, the coaches introduced their players and the students yelled. The result: a tremendous increase in Apache pride. The class yells were also something else. Even the freshmen gave the seniors something to worry about in the competitions. All in all, the rallies were most effective and the students enjoyed this method of creating and maintaining Apache spirit and pride.

Senior Women Shocked by SHS Junior Girls

This year's Powder-Puff contest (called the Valentine's Bowl by the Student Council) should have been called 'The Mud Bowl'. It was raining, it was muddy, it was miserable but it was 'fun!' The contest ended in a tie as neither the Women or the girls were able to score. The game featured a little bit of everything including pep boys and cheer boys. Rick Duran was the featured male during the contest though as he was crowned Sanger High's 1983 'King of Hearts'.

Pete Butts takes grand prize in the annual SHS car show

The participants this year in Sanger High School's Spring Week provided the rest of the student body with some of the most creative get-ups ever. The get-ups ranged from a satirical look at our administration to outfits of our life's ambitions, to the sexiest of Hollywood stars. With the sun out shining bright and spring fever in the air, students went all out to show that had school SPIRIT. The annual car show was a huge success with 35 applicants entering their pride and joys, hoping of course that the judges would agree that their car was the best. Trophys and money were awarded to the first place winners in each of the six categories and ribbons were awarded to the second and third place winners. An overall trophy was also awarded to the 'best' entry and this was won by Pete Butts. All in all, Spring Week provided an opportunity to let people enjoy the nice spring weather, show off their school spirit and just have an all-out good time

Activities Create Positive SHS Learning Experiences

Much goes on here at SHS that usually goes relatively unnoticed. The 'events' do not qualify for 'full page' treatment here in the Echo, but, nevertheless, they do demand some coverage and publicity. To the right are three photos that depict administrative involvement in the school. Principal John Haro invites student input into the policymaking area through the monthly Principal's Advisory meetings. The District administration is heavily involved in Sanger High and in the photo in the center, Wilson School Principal Hank Vasquez is about to present Asst. Supt. Roy Argleben with a very prestigious award. Then there's the Students of the month. Designed to recognize outstanding students for their efforts in making SHS a 'best' place to be. On the next page community involvement is readily recognized as Principal Haro presents an award to Eddie Jimenez of the Sanger Herald. The small center photos depict the PTSA at their monthly meeting, this one hosted by Sanger High; FHA-HERO activity inquiring experts into the community; and the after-game pot-luck dinner to introduce the coaches to the parents. Dean Nicholson fed many Sanger athletes each Friday at the FGA breakfasts, the JV cheerleaders WON at Clovis (that's good!) and Mary Martinez had to go to see Mr. Bender to explain that that 'darn computer' didn't compute right as she enrolled in classes for her final semester. All in all, Sanger High is a busy place.

Bank of America Plaque Winners

Ben Gong . . . . .	Science and Math
Ann Padilla . . . . .	Applied and Fine Arts
Tim Kruger . . . . .	Liberal Arts

Ben Gong

The Sanger High faculty selected Ben as this year's top math and science student in the area of mathematics. Ben has been one of the best math students since his freshman year. In addition to his academic accomplishments, he is also one of the more active Sanger High students and this year he served on the SHS Student council, was a Principal's Advisor, a life member of CSH and held membership in the French and Death Squad Clubs.

Ann Padilla

Senior Ann Padilla has been heavily involved in agriculture since her freshman year and this year the Sanger High faculty selected her to receive the Bank Plaque in the applied and Fine Arts. She also displayed an interest in the military and is one of the few students in the history of the military academics to be selected to attend both the Naval and Air Force Academics. Her future includes studying either aerospace engineering or the biological sciences.

Tim Kruger

The best Liberal Arts student in Sanger High is Tim Kruger, the MUN Secretary General. Tim has been involved in MUN for the past four years and also was won of Sanger High's representatives to the Academic Decathlon and was also a participant in the Mock Trial competition. Tim plans to pursue a career in the diplomatic service and he plans on enrolling in Georgetown University in Washington DC to study international relations.

1983 Life Members Status Earned by Top Students

One of the proofs of having attained scholastic excellence is to have qualified for life membership status in the California Scholarship Federation. In order to do this, the student must have qualified for CSF a minimum of six semesters including one in the Senior year. This year's graduating class qualified 21 students as Life Members. This list represents some of the outstanding students on campus. Not only are high grades required, but the 'high grades' must be attained in particular classes. High grades in 'easy classes' will not qualify you for life member status. Leading the list of CSF 1983 Life Members are Ben Gong and Kurt Sieve, the Valedictorians for the Class of 1983.

1982 Sports Banquet Recognizes A Successful Fall Season

The pride of Sanger High School never stops showing. This year the fall sports banquet illustrated this by honoring the 1982 Apaches. The teams were introduced by their respected coaches and later introduced individually and given their awards. The participants, parents, and friends enjoyed a Mexican dinner and later a speech by alumni Ted Toroslan the guest speaker. The 1982 banquet was a complete success in the honoring the Apaches.

Apaches Surprise NYL . . . Win Championship Title

Runningback Billy Couchman was the Apache running threat throughout the season

Coach Roy Tanimoto in his first year of varsity competition in the tough North Yosemite League showed the 'big schools' with the 'big teams' how to play football. The Apaches, figured to end no higher than fifth in the league, managed to ignore the forecasters and won the league title. The wins just kept coming and coming. After awhile, the Apaches had the momentum going their way and it took an excellent team, the Bakersfield Drillers, in the Vally play-offs to defeat them. The big names on the squad were Billy Couchman, Alex Campos, John Straffero, Jimmy Condley, Frank Gonzalez and Mitch Krum. There were others though, as this was a team and not a squad of superstars. They were small but forgot their size and gave each opponent a lesson in how to play football.

The Apaches after one of their many victories! This year's version of the Sanger High Apaches started the season as underdogs but after the wins kept coming even the Fresno Bee had to stop referring to the Apache wins as upsets. The squad, led by the North Yosemite League Coach of the Year Ray Tanimoto had an impressive year in their second season in the North Yosemite. Small but aggressive was the phrase most often used to describe this championship squad. With many players returning for another year the Apaches are considered the team to beat in the North Yosemite League next year.

Couchman, Campos Selected MVP on Championship Squad

Billy Couchman was the Apache offensive leader this year and the defense was led by Alex Campos. In between these 'stars' who were named the squad's 'Most Valuable Players' were many players who excelled throughout the season. Although they were small they were mighty and were led by a corps of coaches whose dedication and hard work made the Apaches the envy of the North Yosemite. The squad was described in various ways throughout the season, but the prevailing attitude of the coaches throughout the league and the press was that 'they didn't do very much but what they did they did exceptionally well. Good sound, fundamental football was the earmark of the squad. Tanimoto proved that a coach can win at both the junior varsity and the varsity level. After winning several championships at the JV level, Tanimoto became a championship coach on the varsity level in his first year of varsity competition.

Determined Effort Leads to Strong NYL Finish

Coch Sue Theiler started with a veteran team and the squad kept improving game after game. It wasn't until post-season play came about that the Apaches had to settle for less than the championship. Led by Kelli Hackersmith and Lynette Wilke, the squad was one of the most impressive in the league. The squad showed excellence in virtually every aspect of the game and there didn't appear to be a 'weak spot' on either offense or defense. In addition to Kelli and Lynette, Coach Sue Theiler's squad was led by Joni Gonzales, Amy Barron, Maggi Molina, Pauline Courinho and Seana Martin. The JV unit under Coach Cathy Padilla won the league title and the frosh 'just about did it also' as Coach Debbie Santos led her Chargers to a fine win-loss record.

Apache Volleyball Gains North Yosemite Respect

In addition to the outstanding job that the Sanger High girls did on the varsity level Coach Corby Padilla took the JV unit and won the league title. This was her second championship in two years as her frosh squad last year, with many of the same players, also won the NYL title. A strong squad both offensively and defensively formed the frosh and JV units and the limited number of spots available on next year's varsity squad will be easily filled.

Cross Country Takes NYL, Area, and Valley Titles

Since 1978 the Sanger High Apache Cross Country Squad has ranked no lower than 5th in the Valley and this year everything came together at the right time, in the right place and at the right way. Dodson and his runners took everything. There is much to be said about the squad that started strong and never let up. Towards the end of the season, they knew they were going to win. Coach Dodson commented, "This year's team was the strongest ever." Martin Leal was the team leader and fastest runner and is the school's record holder for the three-mile course. David Naranjo, a freshman, forgot that he was a freshman and ran like a seasoned veteran. He was one of the varsity leaders and also now holds the frosh record in cross country. The group's enthusiasm was evident and their fast times proved their athletic ability. Superstar Lupe Rodriguez led the female runners and displayed outstanding talent as she continually won race after race.

Miguel Hurrado was caught by the Echo camera during the duel meet with the Reedley Pirates at Avocado Lake.

The girls weren't to be excluded and showed that the females on campus are also outstanding athletes.

Very little can be said about the cross country squad that hasn't already been said. Coach Dave Dodson fielded the best Sanger High squad ever in the history of the school and after winning both the North Yosemite League and the Valley (and in between: the area title), the group participated in the Northern California finals and, as stated in the Fresno Bee, produced the best efforts of any previous squad from the Valley. After the season got underway, it wasn't 'who was going to win,' but how close would the second team be to the Apaches. The Apaches worked hard, had fun, and developed a great pride in who they were and what they represented. Coach Dodson was the 'man' behind the runners and his enthusiasm and hard work rubbed off on his runners and the result was predetermined: championship status.

NYL Competition Tough for Apache Water Squad

The 1982 version of the Sanger High water-polo squad was much improved over previous years. A new coach with new techniques and attitudes provided the impetus that led to a successful season. Although, the squad did not win a championship, they were 'in' every contest and had their share of wins. Led throughout the season by Superstar Jim Ponak, the squad did find the NYL tough but Coach Jason Fife prepared his squad both mentally and physically to be competitive. In addition to Ponak, the squad was led by David Dorough, Mike Hernandez and John Gonzalez. This year's fine showing set the stage for a promising 1983 season.

Led throughout the year by Apache superstars Tim Springs and Franky Gonzalez, the 1982-83 version of the Apaches displayed outstanding basketball knowledge under new head coach Eric Hovey. After getting a late start due to the resignation of Coach Steve Natsues, the Apaches soon gelled and formed a formidable unit. A third-place finish in the Sanger Kiwanis Tournament set the stage for a very successful season. Kiwanis All-Star Pat Roberts was the 'big man' on what has to be referred to as a small squad. At 6'3" he was one of the smaller centers in the league but performed with the best of them. Rounding out the starting unit for Hovey were Jason Chen and first year player Bobby Schultz. Hovey brought a 'new brand' of basketball to SHS this year as the players made the adjustment quickly and were very competitive in the NYL.

New Coaches Present New Basketball Outlook

In addition to the fine play of the varsity, Sanger High's JV and frosh units also excelled under two new coaches. From Pacific College, Coach Rick Rankin came on board and took over the Braves squad. From Fresno State, Coach Eddie Murphy came on board and taught the frosh the fundamentals of basketball. One thing showed through more than ever . . . The Apache basketball program was in good hands. Leading the JV unit for Rankin were Anthony Monreal and Joe Chen. The Frosh standouts were Chris Rangle and Larry Lopez.

Apache Girl Basketball Rates High in Valley

The Apache girls' basketball squad had height, experience and determination going for them this year and Coach Tanimoto's squad rated as one of the outstanding teams in the Valley. Led by Senior Kelli Hockersmith and Junior Lynette Wilke, the Apaches showed strength at all positions. Pauline Coutinho, Kelli Cooper, Maggie Molina and Joni Gonzalez also came through game after game to produce the winning season. Along with Coach Tanimoto, the talents of Asst. Coach Jim Deaver were utilized and in addition to the wins, the squad members perfected the various fundamentals of the game. The Braves also excelled this year under Coach Joe Munoz. Fundamentally the squad was very 'sound' and the talents of Stacie Mosher and Nicole Cheney in the scoring column resulted in a successful 1982-83 season.

Boys Soccer Shows Team Strength for '83' Season

Apache soccer is a relatively new sport on the SHS campus, but with players of the caliber of Chris Chapman, Rod Kalpakoff, Tony Lantsberger, Art Chapa and Chris Cucuk on the squad, SHS has distinguished itself as one of the better soccer squads in the Valley. Although this year's squad did not duplicate previous championships, the team did well and Coach Garza again fielded a 'winning' team which resulted in a successful season. A new coach greeted the JV enthusiasts and the 'development of skills and technique' was their main objective. In this they succeeded. They also succeeded in the won-lost column and 'had fun doing it.' Coach Leon Bueno brought to the team the experience he gained on his way to achieving All-American status as a college player.

New Sport for Sanger; First Season a Success

Under head coach Pam Veith, the Sanger High girls' varsity soccer team had an exciting season, in this, their first year of soccer competition. The squad learned the fundamentals and techniques of the game and showed that in future years, SHS will have a viable female soccer program. Although there obviously was a lack of experience on the squad due to the fact of their first-year status, the team got better and better as the season progressed and wins began to come. The squad was made-up mostly of underclassmen but their enthusiasm and competitiveness was very evident. This, coupled with their discipline, led to a successful inaugural season.

Stud
Ric Valdez

Hours of hard work and controlled weight through constant weight watching are what helped to make the 1983 Apache grapplers a definite asset to Sanger High School. Coach Dale Phillips provided the squad with the necessary ingredients to make the season a successful one. He was aided throughout the season by the talents of Asst. Coach Steve Theissen. As the season progressed, the young squad, made-up of underclassmen, gained the required skills to compete in the tough North Yosemite League, one of the strongest wrestling leagues in California. The combined efforts of the entire team completed a season of excellence for the SHS wrestling squad.

Apaches Impressive in 1983 NYL Baseball Play

The 1983 Sanger High Apaches were led by catcher Eric Enos and first baseman David Matsumura in the hitting department; and Henry Elizarraraz, Jeff Padjan and John Stafferno in the pitching department. Coaches Steve Teel and Buck Martin had a 'good group of players' to work with and the squad was the type that never gave up. In several contests the Apaches were forced to come from behind to pick up the win. The Apaches (again!) were in the tough NYL, but handled themselves well posted an impressive winning season. Throughout the season, the Apaches were impressive and handled their opponents with comparative ease. Enos was the 'big ball' hitter for the squad and his early season homers got the Apaches off to their winning season.

Teel Leads Apaches to Improved NYL Record

The 'Apaches,' of course, are THE baseball team on campus, but Coach Steve Teel keeps his eyes on the Braves and the frosh as they will be the units that prepares the 'youngsters' to play varsity ball. Coach Joe Munoz coached the Braves this year and their pre-league and conference play was impressive and is an indication that Sanger High's baseball program will continue to prosper. On the frosh level, Coach Jim Smith taught the fundamentals of basketball to his young players and at the same time managed to complete a winning season. All in all, this was a good year for Apache baseball. The coaches coached, the players played and the results were indicative of a group of individuals who took their jobs seriously and the results were positive.

New Coach Adds Depth to SHS Apache Swim Program

Dave Hasegawa, a former Apache swim star, returned to SHS this year and took over the Apache swim program as head coach. Water polo mentor Jason Fife and Diane Googooian, Sanger High's best-ever diver, assisted Hasegawa and the results were great as enthusiasm abounded in the program. A team with depth, led by Efiatro Castillo, Kristine Sandberg, Shelley Newton, James Meehan, Kristi Service, Charlene Hirschcock and David Dorrough, the Apaches had problems 'getting in the water' due to the traditional malfunctioning of the Apache pool (thank God for the City of Sanger who allowed us the use of the community pool), but once in the water, the results were positive and the Apaches were a force to be reckoned with. In numbers, the squad wasn't as large as previous squads, but the talent was there and the points were easy to come by.

Two Seniors and a Frosh Dominate Sanger Tennis

The 1983 Sanger High Apache tennis program didn't produce unexpected results. The squad had Sean Kopp and Bobby Schultz returning (Valley champs last year) and it was expected that a repeat performance was in order. Her reputation preceded her, so the fact that 'super frosh' Jodi Wardell was the No. 1 Apache female wasn't unexpected either. This trio, and other Apaches, kept winning and winning. Another super frosh 'took to the courts' (Leanna Ainger) and proved that in future years, the Apaches will have a squad that will 'take it to the NYL'. Peggy Fujihara coached the boys squad and Jack Ainger (former Apache coach) came to the rescue of the girls' squad when it appeared that their season might be cancelled because of the lack of a coach. All in all, the season went smoothly (except during early spring when the rains cancelled several matches) and the Apaches were 'right up there with the best of them' in the NYL.

Apache Softball Features Impressive NYL Play

Again this year the Apache softball squad was led by the coaching of Jim Duckhorn and the outstanding play of Maggie Molina, Pauline Coutinho and Terri Cooper. The 1983 version of the Apaches turned in some fine performances but they did have their difficulties. The NYL is a tough league in softball as it is in virtually every other sport. New to the program this year was a frosh squad that will help the Apaches in future years. Staffed by an enthusiastic corps of 'little kids' led by Stacie Mosher, Gina Vela and Diane Silva, the squad was impressive all season. Sue Theiler coached the frosh in their debut in organized high school softball.

Apache Distance Runners Lead SHS 1983 Harriers

The 'big names' on Coach Dave Dodson's 1983 track and field squad were Rod Kalpakoff, Tony Lantsberger, Lupe Rodriguez, Rick Bernal, Martin Leal, David Naranjo, Migiel Hurtado, Alonzo Perez, Alfonzo Perez, Harvey Morales and Elida Tijerina. These super athletes led a fine squad through a most productive league and non-league schedule which again featured Sanger High's own Metric Classic, which attracted some of the outstanding athletes in the Fresno area. In the distance races, the Sanger runners were 'Best in the Valley.' Race after race, Bernal, Leal, Naranjo and Hurtado led the way. As did Perez and Perez; along with Homer Mora and Morales. In the female division, the Sanger High co-eds were led by Rodriguez, who excelled in the distance races. Squad leader Alonzo Perez, a multi-talented performer who did everything from the triple jump to the high jump to the races was outstanding throughout the season. Kalpakoff was one of the Valley leaders in the high jump and improved his performances to 'record breaking' heights. Fresh Roy East led the underclassmen and showed promise of becoming one of the best-ever Sanger High weightmen.

When a student enters Sanger High and is academically inclined, he immediately begins studying in earnest in order that late in his frosh year he might be initiated into the California Scholarship Federation. After that, he immediately sets his sight on Life Membership in the organization. From among the close to 400 Seniors who will graduate, 21 met the minimum requirements and did achieve Life Membership. This scholastic organization boasts a membership of talented (academically) students. You don't just 'join' CSF. Rather, you earn the right to join. Membership is not automatic as the student must seek membership if he meets the academic standards set by the national organization. Through the years, CSF has meant a great deal to many students and generally, membership predicts success in college. Mr. Hal Shaw was the club's advisor this year and helped to keep the tradition of excellence associated with the organization.

Sanger Mun Develops International Skills

Sanger High's Model United Nations again showed the State of California that it has one of the outstanding groups. Conference after conference featured the talents of the SHS group and the awards won were varied and many. Built on hard work and understanding international problems, MUN develops outstanding student leaders. The Sanger group this year was led by Secretary General Tim Kruger who performed exceptionally well throughout the year. As usual, the SHS Conference was labeled one of the best presented during the '82-'83 season.

AFS Under- standing Through Friendship

AFS Foreign Exchange student Efilto Castillo from the Dominican Republic

Efilto and Diane Soriano share a moment at an Apache football game

Unfortunately, this was not one of the more productive AFS year's here on the Sanger High campus. For the first time in a long time no Sanger High student was interested in studying abroad either this summer or next year. No applications! But, it was a very productive year for Efilto Castillo who shared his experience with us during his year as our AFS student. Efilto arrived in late August and because of his friendly personality had no problem adjusting to Sanger High. He quickly made friends and just as quickly got involved in Apache sports as a member of the Apache water polo squad.

Sanger Spirit Makers Make Sanger High 'Come Alive!!!'

Sanger High Apache Cheerleaders Row 1: Michele Dresick, Heidi Snell, Suzie Perez and Melissa Huerta. Row 2: Denice Rice, Debbie Gahvejian, Sheri Farmer and Buffy Maslowski.

Sanger High has a reputation of having the best spirit squads anywhere and this year was no exception. The long hours of hard practice found to be time well spent. This spirited group of ladies were dedicated and their talent went past performing at athletic events, they did well at all the competitions they were invited to. Under the direction of head cheerleader Debbie Gahvejian, SHS cheerleaders received the spirit stick and a superior trophy at USA camp. Ann Kaprellian and her songleader also did exceptionally well at camp. They came home with the unity award and a superior trophy. Both groups worked hard to become the best at performing at school functions.

Pretty pepster Korie Meehan's bubbly personality came through time after time as she helped to create Apache pride.

SHS Pride and Enthusiasm Lead to Spirit Success

The Sanger High school pep and cheer squads have emerged over the last few years as being some of the best in the Valley. The prevailing attitude at the various competitions seems to be "Sanger is the school to beat!". This year was no exception. Competing at Clovis, in Los Angeles and in San Jose, the Sanger squads, not only had fun, but also performed on the 'superior' level. The trophies are displayed on campus which prove their excellence. In addition to their own competition, the Sanger girls seemed to have dedicated their lives to SHS athletics. They were everywhere all the time. Unlike some schools whose groups are limited to football and basketball participation, the Sanger groups participated in virtually every sport and could be seen supporting the Apaches throughout the year. Led by Ann Kaprielian (pep girls) and Debbie Gahvejian (cheerleaders), the groups took themselves seriously and worked hard to perfect their winning routines.

SHS Band Auxiliary Adds Excitement to Performances

The Sanger High School Band has a reputation as being one of the best bands in the San Joaquin Valley. Year after year they perform and participate in many band reviews. The 'musicians' play the music but it is the flag girls, majorettes and lettergirls who give the band that added color and flare that makes the SHS group stand out from the rest. The participants take their jobs seriously and begin the work of the year even before the previous year is concluded. Late in the spring, tryouts are held and once the excitement of winning wears off, the hard work begins. The groups are also entities in themselves in that they also participate in the several competitions and camps throughout the year. In addition to the parades, the groups participate in most of the Apache rallies and the halftime shows. Mascot Harvey Morales was the symbol for the band and his 'opening' of the halftime shows got the superb halftime shows off to a stunning start.

Jaime's Musicians Again Win Festival 'Superior'

When a person thinks of the Sanger High Band, parades and halftime shows immediately come to mind. You can see and enjoy both the halftime shows and parades, but there is another part of the SHS instrumental music program: the classroom teaching that leads to Festival participation and, again this year, a 'Superior' rating. Throughout the year Mr. Jaime and his musicians are called upon to provide music for various school and community functions. Their work simply doesn't stop. Summer rehearsals are necessary to get ready for the beginning-of-school halftime shows and by the time the end of the year rolls around and everyone is winding down, Jaime and his band are rehearsing for the graduation ceremonies. Their work never stops. Visually and musically outstanding is the phrase most often heard to describe the SHS marching and concert band.

Vocal Music Department Provides Sanger Culture

Director Norman Wiens

Norman Wiens and his musicians have gained a reputation as being some of the best musicians in the San Joaquin Valley. Their excellent reputation is well established and because of it, they are always in demand to provide the entertainment for various groups on campus and throughout the community. The Honor Choir is especially active throughout the year and it has become tradition that the concert choir supply the music for the annual celebration commemorating the Nation's Christmas Tree City. Competition is also part of their work and at the annual Festivals the results are always the same: "Superior ratings." The groups, in their musical offerings, entertained their appreciative audiences time after time.

SHS Choir Performs at 'Superior' Level

Sanger High School Vocal Music

Director Mr. Norman Wiens

Sanger High School is recognized throughout the Valley for having several outstanding programs, least of which is the SHS Vocal Music Department under the direction and guidance of Mr. Norman Wiens. Even though the Honor Choir is "always performing" their performances only represent a portion of the requests and invitations to perform. The group's excellence is noted throughout the area and their frequent performances show 'superior' technique as well as being very entertaining. The Concert Choir also excels and 'Superior' ratings at the annual music festivals have become commonplace and this year was no exception. If the saying, "He who sings, prays twice" is true, the Sanger High musicians do a lot of praying.

"We have a great deal to offer students," was the theme of the "Getting to Know Us" production where the activities were discussed and the talent presented. During the hour-long show, the audiences were given an insight into the functional aspects of SHS and a message of 'get involved when you get here' was issued to the eighth graders in the various audiences.

Frustration and Fun Were Products of Echo, Hi-Lights

Echo-1983 Hi-Lights 1982-83 and Journalism all featured the elements of frustration and fun as the students produced this 256-page history of SHS for this academic year, published a weekly newspaper, featured the fall sports through a program, and developed programs for various clubs and organizations on campus. In between the many deadlines, the staff had their parties and a few other fun times. If all this wasn't enough, the Echo staff also became the official hostesses for the athletic banquets and Photographer Brian Brisco became 'everyone's photographer.' It seemed that there was no end to requests for photography. The WEEKEND CLUB was also a part of the year. Lisa, Kristine, Kristi, Brian, Shelley and Kristine (another one) spent a lot of out-of-class hours meeting the many deadlines. It wasn't always fun, especially when it took the place of skiing, shopping and other more important things. A couple of 'super frosh' got involved this year. Kris Garrison on the Echo staff and Kristen Sample on the Hi-Lights staff. Both forgot that they were freshmen and performed as though they had been involved for four years. The staff received help from former staff members Gary Kazanjian (photography) and Janice Mamigonian (who, as a Sanger Herald employee, lent her talents to the weekly editions of the Hi-Lights). Finally Lisa Katayama, who, according to Mr. Peoples, was one of the best-ever editors, set a record: She only cried once! (we think!)

... A Creative Council

The 1982-83 Student Council was made up of an energetic group of individuals who got the students of Sanger High Involved in many activities throughout the school year. These student leaders were people who really cared about what happened at Sanger High and their concern was shown through the events that were planned at SHS. The numerous activities that were organized by the Student Council helped to raise the pride at Sanger tremendously and made the 1982-83 school year a memorable one. In addition to their hard work on Council business, the members were also some of the most active students in the classrooms and in the various clubs and organizations. Under the direction of Advisor Bob Buchanan, this year's group was one of the 'most creative' in SHS history.

Lone Star Students Meet "Outsiders" Movie Stars

Early in March the members of the sophomore and junior class had the opportunity to reap the benefits of something they had done while students at Lone Star School. While at Lone Star the students began a project that ended up in a major movie that was dedicated to Mrs. Jo Misakian and the Students of Lone Star. They encouraged the making of a movie from the script

"The Outsiders." It became a major movie and it had its world premier here in Fresno with Lone Star the featured guests. Kris Veramian was the star of the Lone Star gang as she spearheaded the project while there. Pictured here are the stars and the Sanger High 'stars' who had the opportunity to mingle with the celebrities and later that evening attend the premier

Auxiliary Personnel Keep System Running

Sanger High's classified staff does a tremendous job year after year and this year was no exception. Their performances throughout the year kept Sanger High running smoothly. These people constantly displayed a positive attitude and showed a great interest in the members of the student body. Their special care was evident throughout the 1982-83 school term and they produced a job well done. From the cooks to the custodians and from the bus drivers to the secretaries, Sanger High was an efficient campus thanks to these people. The top people were tops. Building Superintendent Floyd Luna was on the 'go' from sunup 'till sundown and through his efforts we were able to function on a daily basis.

Sanger High 1982-83. An academic and co-curricular success

On these pages and the following four, we have attempted to photographically tell the story of the 1982-83 academic school term. Of course, it all started in September when approximately 1600 students (a few less than last year) began a new school term with eager anticipation. After all, after three months of summer vacation we were more than ready to return to re-meet fellow classmates and teachers

Principal John Haro was responsible for giving old SHS a new look! A paint job, a new design for the front walk and creative landscaping (compliments of Mr. Will Loemmlen) greeted us as we approached the campus for the first time in a few months

With promises of 'doing something different' David Phillips began his tenure as ASB president. The frosh cheerleaders were on campus most of the summer and were 'old hands' by the time the rest of us arrived. Some of the frosh, though, were a little concerned about their schedules and the upperclassmen, but through the efforts of Mr. Bob Bender and Mrs. Vera Rogers their fears were set aside and each of them got in the right class at the right time 'most of the time.'

The Band, of course, was ready to go on the first day because Mr. Jaime and his musicians began rehearsals early in August. Football also began prior to school and the games (and wins) started coming in early September. The football season eventually led to Coach Tanimoro's selection as the NYL Coach of the year, the Metro Coach of the year and Sanger's Citizen of the year.

Gary Gustine was 'ready' for his English classes in September, but because Mr

Peoples decided to extend his summer vacation, he was thrust into the world of the Echo, Hi-Lights and athletics. When Mr. Peoples found out he wasn't missed he returned and Mr. Gustine returned to his English classes.

The opening school meetings found the teachers being greeted by Board President George Johnson, Superintendent Dr. J. Donald Dorrough and Principal Haro. The various departments also had their meetings where 'plans' were formulated in small groups.

Ag! Their work is 'year around' and the beginning of school only means that it's 'fair time' again where they show their animals at various fairs throughout the state.

All in all, the first part of the school term got off on a positive note because 'things' were happening from the opening day.

The Sanger High 1982-83 school year continued through the fall and the winter months. The Apaches were on the warpath and week after week the Fresno Bee wrote about the Apache 'upsets.' Upsets or not they led to the North Yosemite League title. The 'Bee' was mocked (in a friendly way with a friendly Bee reporter in attendance) during one of the outstanding 'Jaime' halftime shows.

The members of the pep and cheer squads (who found the time to attain a photo session) echoed the sentiments of all of Sanger with their 'I Love the Apaches' signs.

This was the fall season and that also meant Homecoming and Homecoming Week. In addition to the royalty (and the selection of a very pretty Queen) the Week included everything from a 'baby in diapers' to a witch.

The JV Volleyball squad didn't take a back seat to the Apaches as they were also 'champions' and after the conclusion of their season, they 'rode with pride' down Sanger Seventh Street during the annual Toyland Parade.

Fall was becoming part of the past and the winter sports' seasons became the primary attention getting activities for a month or two. Eric Hovey came 'on board' as the Apache coach and the girls' basketball squad, just about won the league title (just missed it) and did get into the Valley play offs.

Jaime and his band, of course, led off the Toyland Parade but prior to that gave the people of Fresno a glimpse of Apache pride and 'music' during the annual Veteran's Day Parade through downtown Fresno.

It wasn't long before the Christmas season was upon us, and even though the 'fall' athletes were featured, the Sport's Banquet (back to a Banquet) was held in December. The pep girls and cheerleaders cheerfully continued the tradition of serving at the banquet. In addition they were also honored at the affair for their contributions to the SHS athletic program.

The Sanger High Art Department 'got with it' during the Christmas season and art instructor Vince Howlett and some of his artists 'decorated' not only the school, but also some of the downtown business firms.

All this activity was just that: co-curricular activity. While this was going on many things were going on in the classrooms and with such things as the Academic Decathlon a part of our activities, Sanger

High was 'kept on the Fresno County map'.

It wasn't long before Christmas vacation came and we were ready for it. But it was 'back to school' in early January to face those inevitable semester tests. By this time we had gotten rid of the eagerness we displayed in September and began to wonder why it was taking so long for the year to come to a close.

And the year continued! We got into the second semester and the co-curricular activities continued to keep the interested students interested in Sanger High. Everyone seemed to get into the act.

The pep girls and cheerleaders relinquished their spots to their male counterparts during the annual powderpuff football game. It was a tie! The 'hit' of the contest was the crowning of our King of Hearts.

The regular cheerleaders also brought recognition to SHS as they 'did their thing or both the Clovis and Mission San Jose competitions. Trophies from both events CSF, of course, got active during the second semester and as the 'life' members prepared to move out, the new members moved in. A dub for the 'smart' people! The band and choir got their acts in 'perfect' order as both got superior ratings at the annual music festival. In addition, the spring concerts entertained several Sanger audiences.

Getting to Know Us" was the brainchild of Principal Haro last year and was revived this year at the beginning of the second semester. Through this major event, Mr. Haro was able to demonstrate the outstanding programs available here at Sanger High.

Football was 'long gone,' but the rewards kept coming and Henry got his even though it was a long time late! New teachers, usually associated with September, also arrive during the second semester. Baseball and the other spring sports began and that attracted the girls, especially those who become 'star' girls. What a way to watch a baseball game keeping track of the players 'every' move.

Several Sanger High students are excellent in many subject areas and take advantage of the various contests. Kristi entered and reached the finals of the Fresno County Spelling Bee. While Kristi was spelling, Marybeth was singing and Heidi was praying. Marybeth auditioned for the California State Choir and was accepted and will represent SHS and California in a concert tour of Europe this summer. Heidi seemed to be the 'perfect choice' to say the blessing at the winter sports banquet.

Jodi is perfect too! Perfect proof that after being a freshman for three quarters SHE IS STILL A FRESHMAN!

School didn't end with these events, but our yearbook deadline (late March) precluded us from continuing. Lisa says,

"Tah! Dah!" and Brian, who took approximately 18,000 photos since September says the rest of the year will have to happen without his camera aiming at it!

The year will continue. There will be a Prom, a Grad Night, a drama production and, of course, graduation. This has been an active, fun-filled year. We, of the Echo staff hope you got a lot out of it.

Kristine

After a year of frustration, learning, and laughing the 1983 Echo is complete. Full of memories to be recaptured — this is a history book.

It goes without saying that producing a yearbook takes great time and hard work. Thanks to this year's Echo staff members who understood the two words "deadline" and "weekends," the work became sort of fun. A special thanks is due to our photographer, Brian Brisco, for his hard work and perfection in printing. I would also like to thank Mr. Gary Gustin for stepping in and helping a new staff start off right. But none is more deserving of appreciation than our advisor Mr. Don Peoples. Not much more can be said, Mr. Peoples, but "we're lucky to have you!"

I hope you have enjoyed this edition of the Echo as much as I have enjoyed working on it. Our approach is a little different than previous years and I hope in the years to come it will enable you to relive some happy memories.

My Dear Wonderful Husband,

You came into my life one and one half years ago and showed me the meaning of love. With you, I had more happiness than I have ever known. You gave me a marriage of five months in which each day was an adventure to be shared by two people in love. I learned from you about the wonder of nature, the excitement of learning and exploring, and the ability to take great pleasure in the simple details of life. Roy I thank you for coming into my life and leaving me with the gift of true love.
